

Fowl Play

By Steven Leigh Morris &
Directed by Casey Stangl

Featuring
Ensemble Studio Theatre-LA

Hollywood co-op neighbors are at war over the presence of domesticated chickens in the back yard, one neighbor is defiantly trying to buy up the building, and Joseph Stalin has crashed through the roof - only to be elected President of the Homeowners' Association! This subversive new comedy reveals the many different meanings of "home" as it jaywalks across the intersection of civil rights and domestic security.

*For more information please contact Helene Mochedlover, at (213) 228-7331.
Fowl Play is part of Ensemble Studio Theatre-LA's FIRST LOOK series of new play readings*

*7 p.m.
Monday, October 16*

Central Library

Mark Taper Auditorium
630 W. Fifth St., Downtown Los Angeles

Admission is free. First come, first served. No reservations required.

PARKING:

Closest garage is 524 S. Flower St. $7 maximum after 4 p.m. or street parking.
For more parking information, visit library website www.lapl.org

LOS ANGELES PUBLIC LIBRARY