

 LOS ANGELES PUBLIC LIBRARY

Literature/Fiction Department
&
Ensemble Studio Theatre-LA

Present

First Look/Full Lengths:
A New Play Reading

The Mickey Tiles Project

By Jim Macdonald
Directed by Dan Bonnell

Mickey Tiles, a motivational guru to millions, is haunted by a ghost from his past - a past he doesn't remember. But with the help of his wife, her shrink, a healer, a strange young man and an eccentric seer by the name of Mugaji, Mickey will discover his identity, his faith, and his fate in this offbeat new comedy about the fragility of our beliefs.

Monday, November 27, 2006
7 pm

Central Library
Mark Taper Auditorium
630 W. Fifth St.
(213) 228-7331/www.lapl.org

Admission is free. First come, first served. No reservation required.
Parking: Closest garage is 524 S. Flower St. $7 maximum after 4 p.m. or street parking.

ADA Accommodation upon request